WELCOME TO RAM LAND

Welcome to Hughes Stadium and the traditional rivalry between CSU and Air Force. I am particularly pleased to extend greetings to the Corps of Cadets and the members of the Academy staff, including Superintendent A. P. Clark, Lieutenant General, US Air Force.

Today has been designated Legislative Appreciation Day and we are proud to have several members of the Colorado General Assembly as our guests.

I hope that those of you who are guests in Fort Collins today will take this opportunity to visit CSU's main campus and the fine community of Fort Collins.

Dr. A. R. Chamberlain

President of Colorado State University

A Clamberla

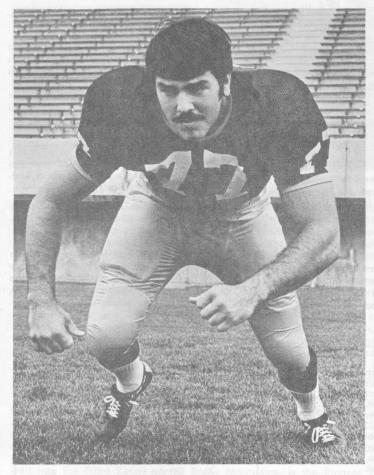

As is our annual custom, we again today have the honor of dedicating a C.S.U. football game to the legislators of our state. Many of these men and their wives are with us today. We are all the beneficiaries of the labors of these public-spirited citizens.

It is likewise a great pleasure to welcome our fine opponents of the day, our local rivals from the United States Air Force Academy. Colorado is indeed fortunate to have been selected as the site of one of our three national service academies.

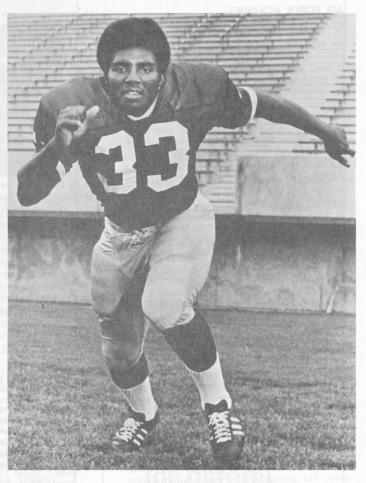

And finally, a special welcome to you, the football fans of our great state.

Air Force Academy Here Today to Renew Modern Rivalry

Colorado State and Air Force haven't played many games in the 72 years of CSU football—12 to be exact—but it wasn't because they didn't want to. It's only because the Academy didn't come into being until July 11, 1955.

Since that time the Rams and Falcons have tied up in all sports from water polo to football to soccer. And football has taken the center stage with the largest crowd ever here in Hughes Stadium for the 1968 game when over 29,000 filled the new facility to see another typical hard fought AFA-CSU battle. The Rams drew 41,300 for the 1962 version of the affair.

But today is another time around. CSU is currently 0-5 on the season while the Air Force is 4-1 and trying for their fourth winning season under coach Ben Martin this year. The Cadets have an impressive record with a 7-6 win over Missouri and victories of 23-19 over Wyoming, 30-0 over SMU and last week's 21-7 conquest of Army. But the Falcons were stopped at Penn State by a narrow 16-14 score.

The Rams, meanwhile, have found the going tough. Coach Jerry Wampf-ler has pulled out all the stops in trying to come up with the winning combination but so far the Rams have only knocked on the door of victory.

The Rams now stand 0-4 in Western Athletic Conference play after five weeks of the season have passed. Coach Wampfler is hopeful a win will come the Rams way in the near future —like today!

Air Force has won nine of the 11 games played between the two schools with one ending in a tie. The last victory for the Rams came in 1966 with a 41-21 score.

Rams' Scouting Report

AIR FORCE ACADEMY:

The U.S. Air Force Academy is neither an engineering nor a liberal arts college but combines certain elements of both. It may generally be described as a school of general education for professional Air Force officers—which endeavors to give each cadet the knowledge and qualities of leadership required of an officer of the U.S. Air Force and a basis for continued development throughout a lifetime of service to his country. A cadet who completes the four-year course will graduate with a bachelor of science degree and a commission as a second lieutenant in the regular Air Force.

COACH BEN MARTIN:

Coach Martin is in his 14th season at the Air Force Academy, second longest tenure in service academy football history. Only service academy head football coach with a longer tenure was Earl (Red) Blaik, who coached at Army for 18 seasons.

Martin's 13th season at Air Force in 1970 turned out to be one of the best. He took a team that was not highly regarded when the season started and turned in one of the top coaching performances in the nation, guiding the Falcons to a 9-2 regular season record and a spot in the 1971 Sugar Bowl, the third time he has led the Falcons to a postseason contest.

Martin is one of the most qualified men in the nation to coach at a service academy. He attended a service academy himself, graduating with honors from the Naval Academy with the class of 1946. As a football player, he earned All-America mention as an end and halfback. He also lettered three years in track.

LAST SEASON:

The Falcons finished with a 9-3 record and spot in the Sugar Bowl against Tennessee where they lost to the nationally ranked Vols, 34-13. The Cadets had two big upset victories to send them on their way with wins of 37-14 over Missouri and 31-14 over Stanford.

Ernie Jennings earned All-America honors as an offensive end following the fine season and Bob Parker, the Falcon quarterback, placed high in the final national passing statistics.

CURRENTLY:

Air Force came into the 1971 season with 25 returning lettermen, same as last season, but lost the top passer, the top pass receiver, a good portion of the defensive backfield and both starting offensive tackles.

But those losses haven't seemed to bother the Falcons as they have now won four while losing only one and it was a narrow 16-14 defeat to Penn State at University Park, Pa. The four wins came over Missouri (7-6), Wyoming (23-19), SMU (30-0) and Army (21-7).

Brian Bream, the big tailback, is currently leading the Falcon rushers with 334 yards on 111 carries for a 3.0 average while flanker Joel Carlson is second with 197 yards on 34 carries for a 5.8 average.

Quarterback Rich Haynie has hit on 41 of 103 passes for 624 yards and has four TD's to his credit.

The statistics and record are impressive but the biggest thing about an Air Force team is its complete dedication to the game. The Falcons play hard and come to win.

Colorado State University

The heart of Colorado State University is its 500-acre main campus in Fort Collins. With some 17,500 students and more than 1,000 faculty and professional staff, the campus is almost a city within itself. It has more than 100 buildings, including classrooms, laboratories, library, residence halls, sports facilities, cafeterias, theaters and assembly halls, a student center with bowling alleys, lounges, meeting rooms, ballrooms, and a bookstore, and the offices of the faculty and University administration. It also has its own security force and its own infirmary. It is a year-around campus, too, with a comprehensive program in the summer session offering a regular quarter of academic work.

The main campus at Fort Collins is 5,000 feet above sea level, 65 miles

The main campus at Fort Collins is 5,000 feet above sea level, 65 miles north of Denver and 45 miles south of Cheyenne, Wyoming. The city is served by two rail and two bus lines. Interstate 25, U.S. 287, and Colorado 14 are the main highways. An hour's drive will take you into the heart of the Rockies to such recreation areas as Estes Park and Rocky Mountain National Park. Fort Collins is noted for clear, bright days with dry, relatively dust-free air. Average annual precipitation is 14.77 inches. Quarterly temperature means are 26.1

for January, 46.1 for April, 69.4 for July, and 48.6 for October.

Some of CSU's students also become familiar with its other two campuses. One is the Foothills Research Campus, a 1600-acre area west of the main campus at the edge of the foothills to the Rockies. Many of the research facilities in agriculture, engineering, forestry, and veterinary medicine are on this Foothills Campus, and some undergraduates and many graduate students become involved in research projects in these areas. Forty-five miles west of the main campus, well into the Front Range of the Rocky Mountains, is the Pingree Park campus. This is primarily a summer campus for field instruction in forestry and natural resources, biological science, and civil engineering. These three campuses are supplemented by eleven research stations in all parts of the state.

All three campuses contribute to a varied and vital educational program at Colorado State University.

CSU also operates programs in several foreign countries adding to the experience of the faculty who teach on the main campus. Thus CSU is not only a Colorado land-grant university but also an international university.

Jerry Wampfler Head Coach

One look at Jerry Wampfler and you know he's a veteran of many gridiron wars. Heavy set, muscular and eyes of steel tell you right away that he knows what the game is about.

He arrived on the CSU campus in January, 1970, and the renewed interest in CSU football became apparent from that moment on. His practice sessions have drawn large crowds. When he speaks, the people listen and his players know what the "man" wants.

The 39-year-old native of Ohio was one of the most outstanding high school coaches ever in Ohio before moving on to college coaching positions at Miami of Ohio and Notre Dame.

Involved in only one losing season in 24 years of playing and coaching prior to coming to CSU, Wampfler joined the Rams from Notre Dame where he served four years as the offensive line coach.

During his stay with the "Fighting Irish", Wampfler helped guide the team to a national championship in 1966, when the Irish finished third nationally in total offense.

Notre Dame placed fifth nationally in 1967 and seventh in offense; eighth in the nation in 1968 and second in offense and completed a very successful season in 1969 with an eighth place position in the final wire service polls.

The new Ram boss is in constant demand as a lecturer at coaching clinics and universities throughout the country and spends a great deal of time during the winter months on the banquet circuit.

Wampfler doesn't make any predictions on the won-loss record he and his staff will be able to maintain at CSU but does say his teams will be fundamentally sound, abreast of the latest strategy and will represent CSU by playing with a full heart.

Wampfler graduated from New Philadelphia Ohio High School in 1950 and played football four years from 1947 to 1950.

He moved on to Miami University of Ohio in 1950 where he played football for four years—1950-1954. While there Wampfler played under Woody Hayes one year and Ara Parseghian three years. He was an All-Ohio and All-Mid-America Conference tackle in 1953.

He received his B.S. Degree in Education at Miami of Ohio in 1954 and later earned his master's degree in Education at Xavier University of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Wampfler returned to his home town and began his coaching career at New Philadelphia High School in Ohio in 1954 where he served one year as assistant football, basketball and head track coach. He moved the next season to Presbyterian College in Clinton, S. C., where he was the offensive and defensive line coach and head baseball coach.

He took over the defensive coaching position at Lancaster Ohio High School in 1956 and his defensive troops held the 10 opponents to only six touchdowns.

Wampfler received his first head coaching position at Massillon, Ohio, High School in 1957 and remained there until 1962.

He returned to Lancaster in 1962 and guided his team to an 8-1-1 record and was the Central Ohio League's Coach of the Year.

In 1963 he returned to his Alma Mater, Miami of Ohio, where he worked as the offensive coordinator under present Michigan coach Bo Schembechler. During his three seasons in that position, their teams finished second in the Middle America Conference in 1963 and 1964 and took first place in 1965.

That led him to Notre Dame in 1966, where he remained until his appointment to Colorado State University. He coached seven All-Americans, George Kunz, Tom McKinley, Jim Reilly, Paul Seiler, George Goddeke, Ernie Kellerman, and Larry Di Nardo.

He and his wife Carol are the parents of three children, Nan 13, Jody 11 and Tad 9. Coaching Staff

He had earlier served as graduate assistant in charge of the freshman program at Northwestern University under head coach Ara Parseghian.

He lettered three years at Sharon High School in Sharon, Pa., before being recruited to Northwestern by Lou Saban, now coach of the Denver Brocos. Saban was later replaced by Parseghian and Fred played two years under Ara before suffering a severe knee injury that curbed his participation in football.

He and his wife Rose are the parents of a son, Joseph, and a daughter, Mary Rose.

His high school teams won their conference championship twice and were in the state playoffs three seasons where they finished third twice and second once.

Perry C. Moore - Director of Athletics

Colorado State University's athletic fortunes are guided by a former outstanding athlete and a man who has had experience in all phases of the world of intercollegiate athletics. Perry C. Moore was appointed athletic director at CSU July 1, 1968 and has been selling the CSU program in the state of Colorado and across the nation in a tireless effort to promote CSU to national prominence.

Moore is firmly dedicated to the importance of intercollegiate athletics in today's university system and he strives constantly to maintain a close interchange between the intercollegiate department programs and personnel and the other departments, programs and personnel which make up today's university.

A believer in helping his fellow universities, Moore served as national chairman for the Wichita Fund following the tragic air crash in the Colorado mountains which claimed the lives of 13 members of the staff and players of the Wichita State University football team on its way to Logan, Utah, in the fall of 1970.

An athletic administrator at eastern and southeastern universities for 10 years, Moore came to CSU from the University of Florida, where, since 1964, he had served as assistant to the director of athletics, Ray Graves.

He joined the Florida staff in 1961 as assistant basketball coach and concessions manager and the following year he was given an additional appointment as administrative assistant to the athletic direc-

Moore graduated from the University of Maryland in 1958 after receiving a B.S. degree with first honors in physical education, recreation and health. He was selected for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," in 1958 and then appointed assistant basketball coach and assistant to the business manager at his Alma Mater.

At Maryland, Moore was a versatile athlete as he participated three years in basketball and track and he competed in the National Amateur Athletic Union decathlon and track and field championships and in the 1956 Olympic Games decathlon trials.

Moore is one of only four athletes to receive the Bill Guckeyson Trophy at Maryland. This award is given by the university to honor the exceptional student who shows outstanding character plus leader-ship qualities in athletics and academics. In 1958 he also won the Atlantic Coast Conference Award of Excellency in athletics and academics and the Herbert K. Evans Memorial Award as the most outstanding trackman.

Born Nov. 5, 1931, at Sherman W. Va., Moore received his high school education at Belpre, Ohio, and Linsley Military Institute, Wheeling, W. Va. He enrolled at Ohio State University in 1950 and competed in freshman football. He then attended the U.S. Naval Academy Preparatory School in 1951-52. Military service as a Navy airman interrupted his college career until 1954 when he enrolled at Maryland.

Moore is married to the former Miss Peggy Jo Stone. They are the parents of a daughter, Pamela Jo, and a son, Perry

CSU Marching Band

Colorado State University's band program has long been one of the school's greatest sources of pride and the Ram marching band is certainly no exception to the rule.

The Rams marching band is well known to followers of the Colorado State University football team as the CSU musicians perform at every Ram home game.

The band is composed of 150 members who receive one hour of credit for participation. All majors and colleges on the campus are represented in the band and the right to participate is done completely on a voluntary basis.

Heading up the Ram band is director Otto Werner, a veteran band director who has been at Colorado State University since 1961. Before coming to CSU eight years ago, Werner served in the Colorado and Illinois public school systems. He is a graduate of Western Illinois University and also teaches in the CSU Department of Music.

Werner explains that each home game halftime program is built around one central theme. "We usually attempt to keep current with music that is happening or we try to keep up with current events," Werner said.

Yearly, the band will perform with the CSU "Golden Girl" during the halftime ceremonies. This year's "Golden Girl" will be Carol Greve.

TV FOOTBALL ... of Rules, Rain and Ratings

by BEANO COOK, ABC-TV Sports

ROONE ARLEDGE
President and Executive Producer of ABC Sports

On the 28th floor of ABC Television's office in New York, there is a saying which goes, "If you think the network did a good job in picking this season's college football schedule for television, send all congratulatory mail to Chuck Howard, vice-president of program production, and Jim Spence, vice-president of program planning. If you don't like the schedule, blame Roone Arledge, President of ABC Sports."

See, my friend, it really boils down to one person, Arledge. He makes the final decision. Take the 1969 schedule. When he talked to Darrell Royal of Texas and Frank Broyles of Arkansas about playing the first Saturday in December instead of the middle of October, Royal asked, "Why?"

"It will be for the national championship," replied Arledge casually.

"What about Ohio State?" said Royal. In 1968, the Buckeyes swept to the national title and nearly every key player was returning.

"They will lose," said Arledge. "Don't worry about that. Your game will be for No. 1."

Everybody thought Arledge was nuts, including all the pre-season experts who saw no way Ohio State could lose. Well, as the season progressed, it seemed as if Arledge had been wrong and the game between Texas and Arkansas would be just for No. 2 and for the Southwest Conference title. After Ohio State walloped Purdue on national television, only Michigan remained for the Buckeyes, who were called by some, "the greatest team ever." A reporter asked Arledge what he thought.

"Look, Ohio State plays at Michigan and 100,000 screaming fans will mean the difference."

As Arledge watched the Ohio State-Michigan game on television, he really didn't believe what he saw. "Look, I thought Ohio State would lose, but when it came down to just one game, I had my doubts."

Arledge, Spence and Howard picked the 1971 television schedule for ABC. The National Collegiate Athletic Association Television Committee only verifies that the schedule meets the criteria of the television plan as voted by the members of the NCAA.

In the early fifties, the NCAA wisely formed a Television Committee, which has closely watched the effect live television has on attendance. Many critics, especially sportswriters, criticize the NCAA for not allowing the network to pick any game. Yet, when television was not controlled, attendance declined. The press blames television for killing boxing, but also criticizes the NCAA when it tries to supervise the televising of college games so the live gate won't decline rapidly

In recent years, the Television Committee has given ABC more flexibility, especially for late-season games. Sometimes Arledge feels frustrated. When he thinks he has the schedule completed, he notices that a team isn't eligible because of previous appearances on the schedule.

"I remember when we called California to request an earlier start for a certain game," recalled Arledge. "After the call, somebody noticed that California already was on the schedule the maximum number of times permitted. Anyway, we were saved when California called back and said it couldn't accommodate our request. I was quite happy over the refusal."

The general public becomes confused over the various rules, but as a guideline, here are some basic ones to remember. The rules start in the even years. No team can now appear more than four times in two years, or more than three times in one year. No team can appear on national television more than two times in one year. There are no blackouts. There are a few remifications to these rules, such as a team can benefit just once in two years from the wildcard game.

Since this year's schedule came in the odd year, Arledge, Howard and Spence had to check the previous year's schedule to be positive that no team would exceed the limit of appearances for a two-year period. When this trio made the schedule, the national dates were completed first. (There are 12 national games and six regional weekends. Each station receives a total of 18 games.)

Then came the 24 games for the regional weekends. "You run into problems but none as rough as having universities move dates, although sometimes you can't blame an athletic director for not switching a date," said Arledge. "However, on some occasions, we are against the wall and must ask institutions to cooperate. In most cases, the athletic directors have been great."

Via the regional weekend games, ABC fulfilled many of the obligations of the contract, such as including at least 12 independent teams on the schedule, and ensuring the required appearances for each major conference for the two-year period.

"I would rate this year's schedule the most difficult one to make in six years because of the problems we faced late in the season," said Arledge. "Yet, I think we will do well ratings-wise, and will provide games of considerable interest and attractiveness regularly."

Under Arledge's brilliant leadership, viewership of NCAA football reached new peaks in 1970.

"If the large cities could have a snowstorm on two straight Saturdays in September, it would help. And if the national games are closer than they were last year, I think 1971 could be a super year. We are the only people who pray for rain for the entire country every Saturday, except at the site of the TV game.

"When it rains on Saturday, several million more fans watch college football on television, and that's good for ABC, the advertisers and college football."

CSU Beef Club

The CSU Beef Club promotes intercollegiate athletics as well as Colorado Beef. Membership is open to anyone who is able to donate beef, but the exclusiveness of the club it seems, stems from the fact that not everyone has a beef grazing in their backyard to give away. For information regarding the Beef Club contact Jack O'Leary, assistant director of athletics, at 491-6020

— Know The Foe — Air Force Academy

Lt. Gen. Albert P. Clark Superintendent

THIS IS THE ACADEMY

Location: Approximately 10 miles north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains. The Academy site covers 18,000 acres.

Enrollment: 4,100 (approximate). Public Law 88-276 was signed by the President on 3 March 1964 authorizing an increase in strength of the Cadet Wing from 2,529 to 4,417.

Founded: Authorized 1 April 1954. The first class was received 11 July 1955. The first class was graduated in June 1959.

Colors: Silver and Blue

Nickname: Falcons

Mascot: Falcon (Mach I)

Curriculum: The U.S. Air Force Academy is neither an engineering nor a liberal arts college, but combines certain elements of both. It may be accurately described as a school of general education for professional Air Force Officers—a school which endeavors to give each cadet the knowledge and qualities of leadership required of an officer in the United States Air Force and a basis for continued development throughout a lifetime of service to his country, leading to readiness for responsibilities as a future air commander. A cadet who completes the 4-year course will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Regular Air Force.

Falcon Stadium seats 45,000 and is located only a short distance from Interstate 25 on the grounds of the US Air Force Academy.
