'One Burger, Hold the Fries . . .

BY LANCE HILL

Nostalgia.

That longing to again possess or be a part of what once was.

It's with us everywhere today.

Even in an obscure half-century-old bend in the tracks someone named Beaumont, Kansas.

The lone monument to what four decades past was a bustling, dusty rail stop which sent 5,000 head of cattle a day on their way to the east is a two-story, tree-shrouded hotel/restaurant quaintly dubbed the Beaumont Hotel.

Perhaps it is an early 1900 ex-boom town atmosphere that still lures people to this forgotten burg — not to mention the “really good food” — or perhaps, for flying buffs at least, it is more that you can fly to Beaumont, land in a cow pasture, taxi down a country road, cross a main street and park right in front of the hotel!

Two Academy second classmen, Jim Fiorenzi and Rick Pilling shared this unique experience last June with two Forbes AFB, Kan. Aero Club members, Captains Mike Grenard and Matt Bradley (Academy '69 grads).

The cadets had just completed the final phase of their summer Third Lieutenant training and the four-some, flying the club's Cessna 172, set out one weekend for the prairie oasis.

“We had read about the place in an article on the Aero Club bulletin board,” Pilling explained, “and since none of the club members had been able to find the place we decided to try.”

Captain Bradley and Cadet Fiorenzi check the controls before taking off in search of Beaumont, Kan.

Planes in the parking lot are not an uncommon sight — at least not at the Beaumont Hotel.

Captain Bradley relayed some of the instructions he had received on how to find Beaumont: “On the southeast side of the triangular pasture which you drew on the east side of town and south of the highway lies a railroad which runs northeast to southwest — got that?!” Bradley had filed a flight plan but the airman at the dispatch desk greeted it with mocking skepticism, “Wish you luck. I went over there a couple of weeks ago and never could find the place.”

My Plane's Double Parked'

They would not be frustrated, however. And besides, lunch was at stake!

"It was a little tricky and we almost made a wrong turn," Pilling said, "but we finally spotted the place where the tracks crossed the road and then saw the water tower."

Bradley thought to himself as he taxied the craft. "I can't believe we're doing this," the tall weeds and brush growing beside the road sliding past the wing tips. "I instinctively looked behind us expecting to see flashing red lights of the local sheriff who would undoubtedly order, 'Git that plane off the road, boy, you're in a heap o' trouble.'"

Cadet Fiorenzi and Captain Grenard chat with ex-railroader and long-time Beaumont resident, Will Hayden.

"We only taxied about 100 yards before coming to the parking area," Fiorenzi explained, "when we got there there were a couple of planes already parked and another came while we were eating."

There are no souvenir shops selling "We Ate In Beaumont, Kan." bumper stickers. Just a hotel registry which the guest may sign.

As for the food — both cadets attest to its "really good" quality. Some executive types flew in just for the hotel's coffee — apparently enough of an attraction to warrant the austere airport facilities.

After lunch the group toured Beaumont and discovered that the whole town aside from the hotel was a tiny post office and an aging bank building.

"At three in the afternoon," Pilling said, "the whole place seemed asleep."

If fads and technology (progress) have their way however, Beaumont could undergo a shocking renaissance. Even a conservative futurist conjures block upon neon-lit block of fly-ins circa the franchise chains of convenience drive-ins, featuring of course Beaumont Burgers served by flocks of cute flightsuit-clad plane-hops. All this to cater to the expanding hordes of flyers looking for a truly different weekend junket. Beaumont could, with proper city management and good PR, become a bustling boom town.

But then it would not be what it is now. A quaint elusive quiet part of the past which offers to the few who seek it out a heaping serving of nostalgia.

Cadets Fiorenzi and Pilling ham it up for photographer in sunny Beaumont.

1972 SEASON

THE BROADMOOR. ONE OF THE NICEST THINGS ABOUT ITS PRESENT IS ITS PAST.

If you're attuned to patrician service and luxury, you might as well be a good sport about it.

The Broadmoor surrounds your leisure with sports. Two great 18-hole championship golf courses. Horses. Winter and water skiing. Swimming pools. Olympic-level all-season ice skating. Tennis.

And, of course, accommodations in the grand manner. Seven superb restaurants. Smart shops. Attentive old-world service in a contemporary Xanadu.

Tradition is alive and well. And living it up at The Broadmoor. May we welcome you soon?

AIR FORCE vs. DAVIDSON

By HAL BATEMAN
Air Force Sports Information Director

There will be several firsts made at Falcon Stadium this afternoon.

To start off, this will be the first time Air Force has ever played Davidson in football.

This will also be the first time the Falcons have ever played a football team from the Southern Conference.

Lastly, this will be the first time Davidson has ever played a football game in the state of Colorado.

The Wildcats from Davidson, N.C., also have another unique distinction. With 1,050 students, they are the smallest college in enrollment playing major college football this season.

During the past several seasons, Davidson has ranked among the top passing teams in the nation, averaging 216 yards per game in aials the last five seasons.

Their statistics so far this season also are pass oriented. The Wildcats are averaging 312 yards per game offensively, 193 of that passing.

Davidson also had a recent bowl appearance, bowing to Toledo in the 1969 Tangerine Bowl in Florida enroute to a 7-4 season.

* * * * *

It's easy to appreciate offense in a football game but how many people really look that closely at the defense?

Last week the Falcons came up with their second straight high-scoring effort by beating Pittsburgh, 41-13, but a great deal of credit in that victory would have to go to the defense, one of the question marks entering this fall.

Falcon defenders turned over the ball seven times to the offense last Saturday, recovering five fumbles and intercepting two passes.

Two weeks ago against Wyoming, junior linebacker Jim Morris was outstanding and he had another good game against Pitt. However, the tip of the hat this week would have to go to junior rover Steve Heil of Gering, Neb., who turned in one of the finest defensive performances in Falcon football history.

Heil, who is still a growing lad at 6-4 and 205 pounds, set a school record by recovering three fumbles and returned an intercepted pass 15 yards. He also had nine tackles, including seven of the unassisted variety.

A reserve last season, Heil showed excellent promise and insured the victory over Tulsa with a 37-yard interception return for a touchdown.

* * * * *

Offensively, a tip of the hat goes to senior tailback Joel Carlson of Coloma, Mich., who came up with his second straight 100-yard plus day rushing. Carlson, who was shifted from quarterback to tailback in the spring, gained 134 yards on 30 carries against Pitt, scoring a touchdown. He also caught two passes for 23 yards and returned the second-half opening kickoff 47 yards. It was a busy day for Joe, who ranks as one of the best open field runners in Falcon football history.

Many of you will remember the school record 88-yard run he had last season to beat Army.

The Air Force A-7D
A classic in its own time

VOUGHT
AERONAUTICS

THIS IS THE ACADEMY

Location: Approximately 10 miles north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, at the base of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains. The Academy site covers 18,000 acres.

Enrollment: 4,200 (approximate). Public Law 88-276 was signed by the President on 3 March 1964 authorizing an increase in strength of the Cadet Wing from 2,529 to 4,417.

Founded: Authorized 1 April 1954. The first class was received 11 July 1955. The first class was graduated in June 1959.

Colors: Silver and Blue

Nickname: Falcons

Mascot: Falcon (Mach I)

Curriculum: The U.S. Air Force Academy is neither an engineering nor a liberal arts college, but combines certain elements of both. It may be accurately described as a school of general education for professional Air Force Officers—a school which endeavors to give each cadet the knowledge and qualities of leadership required of an officer in the United States Air Force and a basis for continued development throughout a lifetime of service to his country, leading to readiness for responsibilities as a future air commander. A cadet who completes the 4-year course will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Regular Air Force.

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ACADEMY MISSION

To provide instruction and experience to each cadet so that he graduates with the knowledge and characteristics essential to leadership and the motivation to become a career officer in the United States Air Force.

FALCON SPOTLIGHT:

JOEL CARLSON

6-0, 187-pound senior tailback from Coloma, Mich.

Has moved into the starter's position at tailback after two years as a quarterback. Opened the 1972 season with a 109-yard performance against Wyoming, including two touchdowns.

Broke open the Army game last year with an 88-yard TD run, a school record. Leading returning rusher from last year averaging 5.5 yards a carry with three touchdowns.

An all-state football and basketball player as a prep, he once rushed for 285 yards in a game, scoring four TDs and throwing for two more.

His younger brother, Dana, is a sophomore flanker on the Falcon team. Compiled a 3.08 grade average last semester in a life science major.

MEET THE FALCONS

CHARLES FITZPATRICK, 6-1, 181-pound junior rover from Cincinnati, Ohio. Intercepted three passes last season while playing with the JVs and has moved into a backup position this year at rover. Has excellent speed and is an aggressive hitter. Has also competed on the Falcon JV track team.

STEVE HANSEN, 6-3, 237-pound junior offensive tackle from Chadron, Neb. Starting right tackle last year and this year, earned his first varsity letter in 1971 with 270 minutes of action. Has good size to go along with excellent quickness. An all-conference pick for three years as a prep, he also lettered in basketball and track. He earned a 3.42 grade average last semester in an economics major.

ART RATKEWICZ, 6-4, 223-pound junior offensive tackle from Madison, Ill. Earned his first varsity letter last year with 140 minutes of play. Helps make offensive tackle one of the strongest positions on team. All-state as a guard and defensive end in high school. One of his hobbies is mountain climbing. Majors in history.

TOM HOLKEBOER, 6-2, 198-pound junior defensive end from Grand Rapids, Mich. A reserve last year who earned his first varsity letter playing at defensive end. Was hampered in spring drills by a broken thumb. All-conference pick as a prep, he also lettered in basketball and track, serving as team captain in all three sports. Majoring in management.

PAUL DeHART, 6-0, 199-pound junior defensive end from Franklin, Ohio. Played with the JVs last season but had a good spring. Is considered one of the quickest defensive ends. A two-time all-league choice in high school, he also lettered in track. Majors in aeronautical engineering.

THIS IS THE NEW DAVIDSON COLLEGE

After being virtually an all-male college since its beginnings in 1837, Davidson College has become coeducational.

"We felt the time had come to open our first-rate liberal arts program to women," said Director of Admissions H. Edmunds White. "The move to coeducation was favored by a large majority of our students, faculty, staff, alumni and trustees. If all goes well, Davidson could add 500 women to its present 1,000 men by 1981."

In 1972-73 about 50 women students will be on the Davidson campus, including upperclass transfer students and one-year exchange students. The exchange students are juniors, primarily from Queens College in Charlotte and Hollins, Sweet Briar, Randolph Macon, and Mary Baldwin in Virginia.

High school seniors who are interested in becoming Davidson freshmen in the fall of 1973 may apply to the college this fall and winter. More upperclass transfer students will also be accepted.

Another new development on the campus is the construction of the college's new $4.2 million E. H. Little Library. It will have a capacity for 500,000 volumes and more than 1,000 periodicals and will be equipped to serve a coeducational student body of about 1,500. Davidson hopes to raise the remaining $1.2 million for the structure by June 1973.

Funds for the library, for other physical needs of the campus, and for increased endowment will be sought in 1972-73 on behalf of Davidson and of Queens College in Charlotte by the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina. The Queens-Davidson Fund conducted by the synod has set a goal of $6 million.

Davidson is also seeking in 1972-73 to maintain and enhance its national reputation for producing fellowship winners. The latest graduating class included a Rhodes Scholar, a Marshall Scholar, four Watson Fellows, four Rockefeller Fellows, and an NCAA Scholar, plus recipients of numerous graduate awards from universities around the country.

Usually about 70 per cent of each Davidson class later attends graduate school. The institution ranks in the top three per cent of all independent American colleges in the percentage of graduates listed in "Who's Who in America." It also ranks first in the South and fourth in the nation in the percentage of graduates attending medical school. Among its 11,000 living alumni are more than 1,300 practicing physicians and dentists, many of whom are leading specialists. A large percentage of the ministers of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and many in other denominations, are also Davidson graduates.

The Falcons of 1970

THE BEST SERVICE TEAM OF THE PAST DECADE?

With All-America Ernie Jennings hauling in 74 passes for nearly 1,300 yards and 17 TD's, and Brian Bream muscling his way on the ground for more than 1,000 yards and 20 touchdowns, Ben Martin's 1970 Falcons finished the season with the 9-3 record and a berth in the Sugar Bowl. Not only was this the best squad in the history of the Air Force Academy, it may have been the best service school team of the past decade. Now is your chance to find out in the SPORTS ILLUSTRATED College Football Game, the most realistic football board game yet devised.

The game is based on an expert analysis of every play run by the best team of the past decade from Army, Navy and 30 other colleges. Since every team's strengths and weaknesses have been accurately integrated into the game, you can actually determine what would have happened if these great teams had played each other. Plus you get to call all of the Falcon's offensive and defensive plays, just like Ben Martin. How would the 1970 Falcons have done against the Roger Staubach-led Navy team of 1963 that was ranked No. 2 in the country, or against the miracle Army squad of 1965, which compiled an 8-2 record? You can even play Air Force against the 1969 Texas Longhorns, undefeated and untied and unanimous national champions.

STADIUM FACTS

The concrete structure, built in a natural bowl, has 48,628 permanent seats and can hold up to 50,000 spectators with additional temporary bleachers. There is one level of seats on the east side and three tiers of seats on the west, each serviced by two concession stands and restroom areas. All seats are within easy walking distance of the 9,610-vehicle capacity parking lot which surrounds the stadium on three sides.

The stadium is easily accessible from divided U. S. Interstate 25 and the Academy's Stadium Boulevard which leads directly to the parking lot. There is also ample parking space for 300 commercial busses, and a rail siding is located just a few hundred yards from the bowl for special trains.

Football Writers Good 'Story Tellers'

The following stories have appeared in Fifth Down, the official publication of the Football Writers Association of America. Bert McGrane, Fifth Down editor, selected these excerpts from the many submitted by the football writers from throughout the country.

Tampa's Sam Bailey was discussing recruiting prospects: "There's this interior lineman. He's as big as a gorilla and as strong as a gorilla. If he was as smart as a gorilla, he'd be fine."

Ron Sellers of Florida State was quizzing a couple of teammates on game situations. "You're in your seven yard line with a minute to play. You're leading by two points and it's fourth down and a yard to go. Do you punt or go for the yardage?"

"I guess I'd punt," answered a mate. "Wrong," yelled Sellers. "You can't even have fourth and one on your seven yard line."

Fred Cassotti, Colorado sports information director, discussing a trip to Europe with his wife. "We'd had seven wonderful years together. Not bad when you've been married 13 years."

"We've got to learn to play on a wet field anyway," said Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty, as he spilled a cup of coffee while diagraming plays on a tablecloth.

There are 26 alphabet letters
A fact that each of us knows
Then how come so many fine coaches
Use only the X's and O's?

Unidentified M.C. was introducing the athletic director at a football banquet. "An athletic director," he explained, "is like a tom cat that has been spayed. He still makes calls but only as a consultant."

"It's getting tougher to talk to the men at halftime," said Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska. "Heck, sometimes they don't believe my aunt really is ill."

Coach of an inept team gave out his pre-game instructions. "Men, if we receive the kickoff, I want you to try to recover the fumble. If we kick off, try to block the extra point."

Dan Miranda, veteran official of the Rocky Mountain area, socked a player 15 yards for holding. As the player walked away Dan heard him mumble something about Dan's ancestry. Dan stuck him another 15 yards.

"I didn't call you that. I called him one," grumbled the player, pointing to a mate.

"Go ahead, Ref," said the mate. "Penalize him for calling me one."

Out came the coach, as Dan stepped off the yardage. Dan explained. "Hell," snapped the coach. "Give him 15 more for being so stupid."

Coach: "Didn't you get my letter?"
Player: "Sure, Coach. I read it inside and out. On the inside it said: Your grant-in-aid is terminated because of your low grades. On the outside it said: Return in Five days so here I am."

Small turnout at banquet for losing team led M. C. to apologize to the speaker for the lack of attendance. "We could have used a speaker of less talent than you, Coach," he said, "but we couldn't find one."

* * *

Former coach Bones McKinney told this one at a Fellowship of Christian Athletes gathering. Wake Forest, a Baptist school, tried hard to recruit a certain boy but lost him to Duke. Reason he didn't go to Wake Forest, Bones said, was because of his answer to a religious question.

"They asked him what was the vision of Paul on the road to Damascus and he answered: '20-20.'"

When Pepper Rodgers coached Kansas he was asked if he ever thought of using record-holder Jim Ryun as a pass receiver. "Yeh, quite a bit," he answered. "We could have used him in those third-down-and-a-mile-to go situations."

First Coach: "I want to get something for my wife, but I can't get anyone to make an offer."

Second Coach: "I take my wife out every night, but she keeps finding her way home."

*The Ref is a gent of puzzling intent
He whistles and marches and measures*

*He'll go either way to cancel a play
It's one of his innocent pleasures.*

When Charlie Tate, former Miami coach, was holding a press conference, a writer asked: "Do you think it will hurt the team, with the two best backs, Jim Acuff and Vince Opalski, getting married?"

While Tate pondered the question another writer blurted: "Gee, I didn't even know they were going together."

*Of all the birds and flying things
I'd rather be a bee
I'd file my stinger razor sharp and jab the referee.*

Report from Bob Cahill, Notre Dame ticket manager: "Our sales have been so good I sold out an open date."

Writer went deer hunting. Heard a rustling in the brush and figured a deer was approaching. "I saw the prettiest buck I've ever seen," he said. "I jumped up, took two quick shots and before I could replace the cork in the bottle, the deer was gone."

* * *

Young son of a prominent pro player stood accused of wetting in the Country Club swimming pool. Informed of the charge, the pro retorted: "Oh come now. There must be other small boys who wet in the swimming pool."

"From the high board?" inquired his accuser.

Frustrated motorist tried in vain to find a place to park and in desperation parked in a restricted area. Obeying his conscience he left a note on his windshield: "I've circled this block for 20 minutes. I'm late for an appointment and if I don't park here I'll lose my job. Forgive us our trespasses."

When he returned the familiar parking ticket awaited him, with explanatory note: "I've circled this block for 10 years and if I don't do this I'll lose my job. Lead us not into temptation."

Phone rang in a maternity ward and an assistant coach blurted: "This is Harold Smith. I'm bringing in my wife. She's going to have a baby."

"Is this her first baby?" inquired the attendant.

"No," the excited voice explained. "This is her husband."

AIR FORCE ACADEMY

With the approval and assistance of Major Richard Thurston, United States Air Force Academy Band commander and conductor, Band Day was originated in 1970 under the direct supervision of Senior Master Sergeant William A. Stokes, who plans and organizes all of the myriad details of the affair.

Since its conservative inception with 12 bands involving some 1200 young high school bandmen, Band Day has been a huge success with the football fans and the young bandmen alike. In two years, the project has grown to include approximately 54 bands involving over 7000 young bandmen for this year's halftime performance.

The event is a non-competitive activity with each participating band having the same opportunity to perform and to receive the same recognition regardless of size or geographical location. For 1972, invitations were extended to bands in most of eastern Colorado and adjacent out-of-state areas in Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico and Wyoming.

The primary objectives of the Band Day program are to enhance Air Force Community Relations by providing all of the participating bands with a musical and educational experience; to provide an opportunity for bands to visit the Air Force Academy; and to present a large and different halftime show for Falcon fans.

HALFTIME SHOW

ANNOUNCED BY
MSGT CHARLES GARDNER

MEMBER USAFA BAND

- Massed bands will cover the entire football field to the music of the AIR FORCE SONG.
- Colorado Springs area schools will play SOUL STEP as all remaining bands maneuver to the music.
- The massed bands spell BAND DAY 1972 and play AMERICA.
- Finale — massed bands spell USAFA and play STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER as they and the football field are completely surrounded by a border of American flags.

AIR FORCE ACADEMY MARCHING BAND

The United States Air Force Academy Marching Band has been hailed as the "World's finest military marching band."

This 100-piece musical organization contains the standard band instrumentation with the addition of the Academy's Drum and Bugle Corps. This combination of band and bugles is unique in the United States today. The thrilling sound produced is a direct result of "special" arrangements written by the band's own arranging staff.

The Marching Band may be seen several times during the week performing at the cadet "noon formation" and frequently on Saturday morning as they participate in the formal dress parades of the Cadet Wing. They also appear at Academy football games and throughout the country in such national prominent functions as Presidential Inauguration Ceremonies, major Bowl Parades, pro football games and Music Educators Conventions.

won't you help a few good americans leave the country?

SEND THEM TO MOSCOW . . . in August of 1973. Only this time, send the very best we have! The United States will field a team of university athletes in nine sports, to join in the most spirited and yet friendliest of all competitions. The World University Games, held every other year, will be in the Soviet Union in August of 1973 and more than sixty nations, and 3,000 athletes will be on hand to take part in this the world's most truly amateur event.

In many parts of the world such sports events are sponsored by the government, but not so in the U.S.A. Our college and university athletes will be looking to the American public for help if they are to leave the country. The United States is a school-college sports nation, and the United States Collegiate Sports Council (USCSC) is an organization representing every college and university sports program in the nation by virtue of its membership. We earnestly seek your financial help in sending this squad to Moscow in August of 1973.

When these Americans leave the country, help us make sure they're the best we have!

LARRY VAN LOAN

SPLIT END

"The best athlete to enter the Naval Academy since Roger Staubach," says head coach Rick Forzano. "He's going to catch all of the good throws and a lot of the ones that shouldn't be caught."

Only a junior, Van Loan needs only five receptions this year to crack Navy's all-time top ten in that department. Caught 41 passes for 589 yards last year, including nine against Georgia Tech.

Named to the Football News All-Sophomore All-America team last year. Named to Gridiron magazine's second team preseason All-America squad.

If you treasure Chateau Lafite-Rothschild 1966, you'll treasure Donala

The new country club community of Donala is like fine wine . . . there's only a limited amount of it and those lucky enough to have it are . . . well, lucky.

Fine wine should not be gulped; it must be savored to be appreciated. So, too, must Donala be savored. Some day soon, when you've got a little time, savor us. Just take Interstate 25 to Exit 71. We're 15 minutes from Colorado Springs, 40 from Denver.

We'll let you savor the exquisite view, breathe in the sweet, clean air, and let your imagination construct your home on your very own piece of Donala.

There are 730 gently rolling acres at Donala, covered with some pine, scrub oak, and wildflowers. There are birds and rabbits and other wild creatures. There is an unspoiled view of the Air Force Academy and the granite profile of the Rampart Range a mile away.

We're not about to bulldoze every precious tree in sight. Or allow a tract of clapboard houses butted up against each other. Or put a highrise between you and the most beautiful view in Colorado.

What we are doing is making sure our plans for a prestige community are in harmony with the natural setting. Right now we're shaping our 18-hole championship golf course that winds through the sites of custom homes, condominiums, and villas, because, after all, Donala is a country club community. Next will come the club house, and soon you'll be able to play a quick round before dinner. Or take a dip in one of our two planned pools. Or play a set. Or land a trout. Or just lean back and listen to the birds and forget the reasons that made you come here.

If you're the type of individual who really appreciates the good life, we're certain you'll appreciate Donala. And that's why you want to know more about Donala, the country club community for the connoisseur.

Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the NCAA

The 1973 Monte Carlo. A personal luxury car of the first rank. With elegance, silence, comfort and the confident handling you find in much more expensive cars.

Monte Carlo has been redesigned and re-engineered to the extent that we think you'll find it one of the finest riding, most precise handling cars you've ever driven.

Chevrolet engineers have succeeded in combining this excellent ride and handling with a new body design that reflects the sophistication of these mechanical refinements. Right down to the rear seat opera windows.

And added to these qualities, our engineers have created a quietness that strikes everyone who drives the car. And quietness is one sure mark of a luxury automobile.

The 1973 Monte Carlo. A new and better way to see the NCAA. Even if you follow your favorite team coast to coast. Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the U.S.A.
